

Turning up the Heat this Winter: Peppers in Image and Word

January 14—April 13, 2012

Get ready to feel the heat this winter at the Lloyd Library and Museum. Our latest exhibit, featuring both books and artistic renderings of the chili pepper, explores the world of Capsicum annuum, better known to most as the red, or chili, pepper.

Exhibit Opening: January 14, 2012, 4-7 p.m.

Features a talk by renowned pepper expert,
W. Hardy Eshbaugh—"Some Like it Hot:
The Little Known World of Chili Peppers."

Catered reception follows.

Lloyd Library and Museum

917 Plum Street | Cincinnati, OH 45202

513-721-3707 | www.lloydlibrary.org

Bringing Science, Art, and History to Life/Because the Past is the Path to the Future